

Collaborative homemaking in time of crises

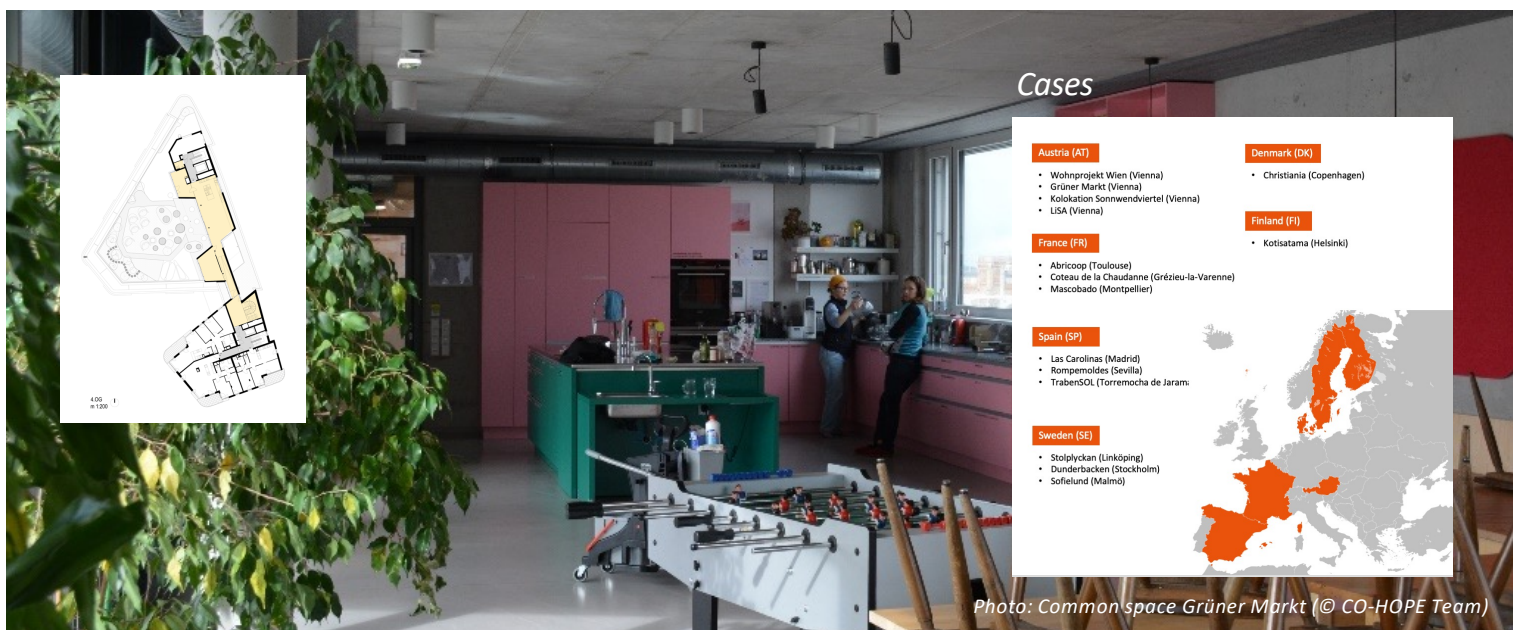

Securing the right to safe, peaceful, and dignified living

The right to the city – housing as usevalue

Research-driven approach with focus on the affordabilityintegration-health nexus

Tackles global housing challenges, offering policy solutions and fostering community-led projects for transformative urban development

Join us in building a just and sustainable future

Project acronym: CO-HOPE

Longer title: Collaborative Housing in a Pandemic Era: cross-country inter- and transdisciplinary evaluation, innovative approaches, human rights-based policy recommendations and capacity building

Duration: 2022–2025

Website: <https://www.keg.lu.se/en/research/co-hope-collaborative-housing-pandemic-era>

LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/groups/12860058/>

Contact: Anders Lund Hansen, Department of Human Geography, Lund University

E-mail: CO-HOPE@keg.lu.se, anders.lund_hansen@keg.lu.se

Budget: 1.132.842,00 Euro

(Poster prepared for the mid-term event in Delft, November 2023)

Partners: Lund University (LU) (Lead), Universidad de Sevilla (ES), Robert Temel (AT), Technische Universität Wien future.lab Research Center [E285.1], Fakultät für Architektur und Raumplanung, (AT), UrbaMonde-France (FR), University of Lyon, Lyon School of Urban Anthropocene Studies (FR), The municipality of Lund (SE), Tampere University (FI), "Municipality of Sevilla; EMVISESA; Municipal de Vivienda, Suelo y Equipamiento de Sevilla S.A. (Municipal Housing Company, Municipality of Sevilla) (ES), Kollektivhus Nu (SE), Ferrum arkitekter AB (SE), Arkitektgården AB (SE), Sensus Studieförbund Region Skåne-Blekinge (SE), Taller Ecosocial Habitat4 (ES), Initiative Gemeinsam Bauen & Wohnen (AT), Hal'âge (FR), L'Epok (FR), Coordin'ation du Mouvement National de l'Habitat Participatif (Habitat Participatif France) (FR)