Research

Introduction
Per-Olof Hedvall works as Director of Certec, Department of Design Sciences, Lund University, Sweden. His research deals with accessibility, participation, and universal design, with a particular interest in the interplay between people and technology. Working closely with the disability movement, he focuses on people's lived perspectives and how human and artefactual aspects of products, services, and environments can be designed to support people in fulfilling their needs, wishes, and dreams. Hedvall has a background in computer engineering and has a particular interest in people's empowerment and opportunities for participation in their lives.
Per-Olof Hedvall often bases his work on Cultural-Historical Activity Theory. In 2009, Hedvall defended his doctoral dissertation in Rehabilitation Engineering and Design, "The Activity Diamond – Modelling an Enhanced Accessibility", where he developed a model for planned, lived, and long-term aspects of accessibility, as a prerequisite for participation.

Current research focus: Universal Design, Equity and Categorisation
For the past 10 years, I have mainly concentrated on trying to contribute to the development and emergence of universal design in Sweden and internationally. I am interested in how it is possible to create designs that do not discriminate against people and that do not lead to inequality and stigma.
My current research is about categorisation and how categorisation creates similarities and differences between people. The design of products and environments often places people in compartments such as "man", "woman", "person with a disability", "person without a disability", "children", "elderly", and so on. I think it is interesting how categorisation takes place and what stories it creates/enables.
There is a strong force in design, which can be used to open up opportunities, but also to close them. Sometimes exclusionary design takes place completely intentionally, as in the introduction of reclining benches on which it is impossible to sleep, but in most cases, exclusion takes place unintentionally. Therefore, it is important to actively work with knowledge and awareness of socially sustainable design that brings people together and enriches society.
On a more general level, I am interested in who may and may not exist in today's society and how it is possible to create conditions so that all people can participate in and contribute to society. The stories we tell about each other when designing influence the stories about:
Who you can be
and who you can become.
I also have a personal website where I write about things that are on my mind and share photos, images and other material. Read more at: https://www.peohedvall.com/.

Szymczak, D., Rassmus-Gröhn, K., Magnusson, C. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2012, MobileHCI '12 Proceedings of the 14th international conference on Human-computer interaction with mobile devices and services companion. Association for Computing Machinery (ACM), p. 151-152
Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Paper in conference proceeding › peer-review

74. Enhancing Multisensory Environments with Design Artifacts for Tangible Interaction
Caltenco, H., Larsen, H. S. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2012, International Workshop on Haptic and Audio Interaction Design. p. 45-47 3 p.
Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Paper in conference proceeding › peer-review

75. Ideation and ability: When actions speak louder than words
Larsen, H. S. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2012, ACM DL PDC '12 Proceedings of the 12th Participatory Design Conference: Exploratory Papers, Workshop Descriptions, Industry Cases. Simonsen, J. & Halskov, K. (eds.). Association for Computing Machinery (ACM), Vol. Volume 2. p. 37-40 4 p.
Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Paper in conference proceeding › peer-review

76. Mobility and modality - perceptualization in situated activities
Rydeman, B. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2012.
Research output: Contribution to conference › Paper, not in proceeding › peer-review

77. Motivation, Peer Learning and Feedback in Flexible Learning
Larsson, A., Rydeman, B. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2012. 4 p.
Research output: Contribution to conference › Paper, not in proceeding › peer-review

78. Navigating the world and learning to like it - mobility training through a pervasive game
Magnusson, C., Waern, A., Rassmus-Gröhn, K., Bjernryd, Å., Bernhardsson, H., Jakobsson, A., Salo, J., Wallon, M. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2011, Proceedings of the 13th International Conference on Human Computer Interaction with Mobile Devices and Services. Association for Computing Machinery (ACM), p. 285-294 10 p.
Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Paper in conference proceeding › peer-review

79. A Cultural-Historical Design Approach to Augmentative and Alternative Communication
Hedvall, P.-O. & Rydeman, B., 2010.
Research output: Contribution to conference › Paper, not in proceeding › peer-review

80. An activity systemic approach to augmentative and alternative communication.
Hedvall, P.-O. & Rydeman, B., 2010, In: Augmentative and Alternative Communication: Aac. 26, 4, p. 230-241
Research output: Contribution to journal › Article › peer-review

81. Aktivitetsdiamanten: Modellering av en vidareutvecklad tillgänglighet
Hedvall, P.-O., 2009 Dec 4, Lund University. 254 p.
Research output: Thesis › Doctoral Thesis (compilation)

82. New Challenges for Participation in Participatory Design in Family, Clinical and Other Asymmetrical, Non-work Settings
Olav, B. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2009, Lecture Notes in Computer Science. Springer, Vol. 5727. p. 971-972 2 p.
Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Paper in conference proceeding › peer-review

83. The Activity Diamond - Modeling an Enhanced Accessibility
Hedvall, P.-O., 2009, 254 p.
Research output: Thesis › Doctoral Thesis (monograph)

84. Towards the Era of Mixed Reality: Accessibility Meets Three Waves of HCI
Hedvall, P.-O., 2009, HCI and Usability for E-Inclusion, Proceedings. Springer, Vol. 5889. p. 264-278 15 p.
Research output: Chapter in Book/Report/Conference proceeding › Paper in conference proceeding › peer-review

85. Who is in Control? AAC seen through the FACE tool
Rydeman, B. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2008. 3 p.
Research output: Contribution to conference › Paper, not in proceeding › peer-review

86. Xings for Augmented Family Communication
Hedvall, P.-O., 2008. 28 p.
Research output: Contribution to conference › Paper, not in proceeding

87. Situerad design för alla - till improvisationens lov
Hedvall, P.-O., 2007, 184 p.
Research output: Thesis › Licentiate Thesis

88. Computer games as life quality for disabled players
Ferreira, J. & Hedvall, P.-O., 2006.
Research output: Contribution to conference › Paper, not in proceeding › peer-review
